The Finance Committee stated that they had not yet gone into the matter, but Comrade Collinson might be able to supply some in-

It was left in abeyance, pending Comrade Collinson's attendance

INTER-PARTY JOURNAL. The question was asked, what was being done about the Journal. It was stated that the publication of the Inter-Party Journal had been discontinued.

RETURN OF FORMS 'C'. Had the E.C. considered this matter since compiling this report?

It was being considered in the matter of Party Re-organisation.

FINANCE. It was pointed out that the cost of propaganda, after deducting the cost of Leeds Propaganda, was under £20. It was agreed that discussion on this would be brought up when considering the Propaganda Committee report.

BRANCHES. Regarding Glasgow Branch, it was asked what action was the E.C. taking to curb the expenditure of this Branch.

The General Secretary pointed out that by sympathisers, the Branch was very active. Owing to the lack of promised support, the plans undertaken for propaganda had not been successful, and as a result, funds had not yet been as anticipated, therefore they had had to ask the E.C. to foot the bill. The E.C. might carry on paying these bills if the Delegates recommended, otherwise the E.C. would probably have to refuse further financial help.

Hackney Branch. Several points were raised with regard to this Branch. The result was not satisfactory.

East and West Ham Branches. The question of a local headquarters was raised, but deferred to be dealt with when the Parliamentary Committee report was considered.

With regard to the amalgamation of East and West Ham Branches, the Delegate from West Ham Branch stated that this Branch had no desire to do this as they did not consider it in the best interests of the Party.

RESOLUTION. Cash and Ewbank.

"That this matter of the fusion of East and West Ham Branches be dealt with with the Parliamentary Committee's report." Cd. 18 - 0.

MEMBERSHIP. Hamilton Branch raised the question of the admission of members to Central Branch. It was considered that if by signing a Form "A" a person could become a member without any other preliminaries, such as contact with a branch or Party members, there was a possibility that such a person might be unsuitable as a member of the Party. The case was instanced of the Central member against whom a charge was being preferred during this Conference; this might have been obviated had some questionnaire been been put to him.

Two suggestions were made:-

1. That all applicants for membership be invited to present themselves to the nearest branch.
2. That a committee be appointed to get out a questionnaire to be sent with Forms "A".

RESOLUTION. Fisher and Wood.

"That a questionnaire be drawn up for all prospective Central Branch members to fill in before their acceptance into Party membership becomes complete."

AMENDMENT. Tett & Fish.

"That as an alternative, Central Branch applicants should be requested to attend the nearest Branch to apply for membership when convenient." Cd. 22 - 2.

As sub. Res. Cd. 22-2.

Continued.

MEMBERSHIP. (Contd.)

The General Secretary stated that a special letter was sent out with every Form "A" asking the applicant to consider the implications of the D of P.

Item for Discussion, Dagenham & Romford Branch on Associate Membership.
It was agreed that this matter be deferred until Dagenham and Romford Branch Delegates were present.

PREMISES. The Premises Committee were asked what was the latest view with reference to obtaining new premises. As certain funds had been collected, we were more or less committed to get new premises.

Criticism was levelled at the failure to obtain new premises. It was stressed that we were under obligation to donors to obtain new premises as early as possible.

It was stated on behalf of the Premises Committee that they were fully aware of our obligations in this direction. The difficulty was that the rental of accommodation required by the Party was generally too high for the Party's expenditure.

The Committee are continually on the alert in looking for premises suitable to the needs and income of the Party.

The Conference adjourned for lunch at 1.p.m. and resumed at 2.10. p.m.

Premises. (Contd.)

The Lewisham Branch stated that they were making enquiries during the next week for premises at the Elephant and Castle which might be suitable as a new Head Office.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

No action.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE.

As the bazaar had been such a success, it was suggested that we endeavour to hold another this year. It was also considered that the social aspect of Party activity should be pursued more than it was. We tended to consider only the financial aspect when running dances etc.

RESOLUTION. Ayres and Kauffman. (Stepney)

"That this Conference recommends that more attention be given to social activity."
Cd. 15 - 5.

MAY DAY DEMONSTRATION.

This matter, raised under urgency by S.W. London Branch, was then considered as agreed at 2.30 p.m.

Long discussion on this matter ensued, the following points, for and against being raised.

The E.C. were criticised for their action in agreeing to a Party contingent participating in the May Day demonstration.

If the Party took part as proposed in the demonstration, it would be very near to violating the Declaration of Principles. We should be allied by implication with all kinds of so called socialists. The matter had been flung upon the Party by the E.C. without giving branches and members an opportunity to discuss the matter. It would be a different matter if Party members congregated at Hyde Park on May 1st and held meetings, but they need not take part in the demonstration.

A RESOLUTION was then tabled by S.W.London Branch.

RESOLUTION. Banks and Devine.

"That this Conference instructs the E.C. to take a Poll of the Party on the question 'Shall the Party take part in any demonstration of the May Day Type?' and urges that the project is dropped pending the decision of the Party."

The E.C. should initiate new moves. It was the representative body of the Party and its action in this matter was in order.

It was pointed out in defence that no evidence had been adduced to show that the proposition was contrary to the Declaration of Principles or against the Policy of the Party. This should have been done if it existed. There was no chance of confusion, the Party would take part in the May Day demonstration as a unit. The identity would be contrasted with other organisations attending. Our banners would emphasise distinction between us and others.

The E.C. was not acting unconstitutionally in altering the tradition of the Party. They were not altering the Policy.

The S.P.G.B. must become known to the workers, it was distressing that it was so little known. We should take every opportunity offered, to take advantage of working-class movements, and one such as presented by the May Day Demonstration should not be missed, if only from the point of advertisement. We could well use this occasion to unravel the confusion which is rife as to our position in regard to other political organisations.

If the demonstration was organised by a political party there might be some reason for this objection, but this was a workers day. Our task in the past has been explaining our non-participation in May Day Demonstrations. Our speakers would not say anything different from the usual propaganda speeches. As we are in opposition to other parties, it is our job to be there explaining our position.

It was surprising that such an alarmist attitude should be taken on such a simple matter. It was time we departed from old traditions; it shows that we have been only too lethargic in the past.

If members fully understand the Principles of the Party, there is no possibility of them slipping on the slippery slopes such as suggested if we took this step. We have been assured that the demonstration is essentially Trade Unionist in character.

Points raised in opposition were as follows:-

Are we going to march behind banners of people who have betrayed the working-class? We must maintain a clear position. Maintain an attitude of isolation. We have ridiculed the idea of participation in the past. Party membership should have been consulted. There was a possibility of 'making confusion worse confounded'. It was in the interests of the Party that the matter should be dropped. It was a departure from Policy. The main theme of this year's demonstration would be Anti-Fascism. May Day was partly a safety-valve which assists capitalists. Can outside people see the demarcation between our Principles and the reformist programmes.

The RESOLUTION was then voted upon and Carried 18 - 17.

MEETING of first day was then adjourned at 6.p.m.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE SECOND DAY.

The Conference was called to order at 11.50.a.m.
Chairman. Waters.
Vice Chairman. Snellgrove.
Tellers. Mallo and Bowley.

Owing to the small amount of business transacted on the first day, the Standing Orders Committee drew up and presented a revised order of business for the second and third days.

The Conference decided to deal with small items on the Agenda in order to leave time for consideration of the item, The Task confronting the Party.

It was therefore agreed to consider to-day, the following items:- Propaganda, Publicity, Classes, E.C. Rulings, etc., etc.

RESOLUTION. Banks and Cash.
"That the report of the Standing Orders Committee be adopted and the suggestions approved." Agreed.

RESOLUTION. Gregory and Maertons.
"That E.C. Rulings be deferred until to-morrow." Cd. 8 - 0.

It was noted that Comrade Terry was a delegate for Leyton Branch was without credentials. It was agreed that he be seated and that his credentials be forwarded to Head Office by his Branch.

PROPAGANDA.

Several points were raised with regard to this report.

The small amount of expenditure (after deduction of the amount spent in Leeds)

Divergence of opinion of members on various points dealt with in general propaganda. Chiswick delegates stressed the urgency for a class to train speakers. A short course on speaking, economics etc. Three items for discussion Numbers 9,10. and 11 on page 19 engaged the attention of the Conference as pertaining to the matter under discussion.

RESOLUTION. Devine and Banks.
"That the three items for discussion, 9,10, and 11 be left until the Task Confronting the Party was dealt with." Cd. 21 - 0.

Provincial.

Leeds. Questioned whether, owing to poor support, was the propaganda in Leeds worth while --- could the money spent in this direction be spent more advantageously elsewhere. Could Com. Davis' efforts be diverted from Leeds to other provincial towns (or London) where conditions were more favourable.

URGENCY was asked for the item, 'The Task Confronting the Party'. It was pointed out that as it was such an important item, time should be set aside for dealing with this.

RESOLUTION. Otway and Connolly.
"That the matter of the Task Confronting the Party be dealt with after lunch, immediately after the Leeds Propaganda item had been concluded." Cd. 17 - 6.
Conference adjourned for lunch at 1.10 p.m.
Resumed at 2.20.p.m.

Leeds Propaganda (Contd.)

RESOLUTION. M. Otway and L. Otway. (Southend.)
"That the question of Comrade Davis's activities in Leeds be referred to the E.C. and that they appoint a special committee in conjunction with Comrade Davis, to thoroughly review the best methods of using Comrade Davis' activities."

AMENDMENT. Thurlow and Bredon.

"That the words 'E.C. and they appoint a special' be deleted and the word 'Propaganda' be inserted."

THE TASK CONFRONTING THE PARTY.

This item for discussion was opened on behalf of the E.C.

A short history was given of events which led to it being placed on the Agenda in the E.C.'s name.

1. Bloomsbury Branch had brought the question before the last Conference under its present title. Considerable discussion had taken place.
2. The implications were so far reaching, that the item had engaged the attention of the E.C. during 1937, and the E.C. of 1938 had gone further with the points raised.
3. They had sought the assistance of their sub-committees and a general meeting of sub-committees would be called to consider the whole question and report to the E.C.

The item, 'The Task Confronting the Party' was of immense importance and intense interest, because active membership of the Party generally were not satisfied with the progress the Party was making. While all members agreed upon the fundamental principles of the Party, there was a divergence of opinion upon what could be termed, the policy of the Party, which should not be confused in any way with the Principles and Object.

There was for instance, a division of opinion on, for example,
The admission of members. The lapsing of members.
A large or small Party. Methods of propaganda,
Literature etc.

Which all arose from not having a definite line of action to work to, or in other words, a policy or an immediate object to work for.

If the discussion on the Task confronting the Party could hammer out such a policy or immediate object which would cover the next 5 or 10 years, then the Party organisation could be lined up to the object or policy and every step in the Party activity should be a step toward the Object.

Many points of view were expressed by delegates taking part in discussion. Party speakers stated that there was an idea prevalent among workers that the Party was anti-Trade Union. This must be got rid of. The Trade Union Organisation could be, and must be made a propaganda centre for the Party. We did not make headway, or gain sympathy because our speakers give evasive answers to important working-class questions which led workers to believe we were opposed to working-class movements. This must be changed.

Propagandists should receive technical training, there should be a system for giving precise and reliable information of topical questions as well as theoretical. The Party should clearly state its attitude on all important questions and speakers should answer questions in accord therewith.

The need for greater publicity was stressed, our activities should be such as to command the attention of the National press, thus we become news value. The Party had to face a boycott of silence. We were largely responsible, we should make ourselves more widely known. We should make contacts whenever and wherever opportunity afforded. There was a need for more Provincial branches. Branches and members should have definite jobs to do.

A case for introspection was stated by one Comrade, who thought that the Party must examine itself for the reasons for its unsatisfactory progress, and urged the need for complete re-organisation.

The discussion was carried over to the third day and much of the ground was again gone over, but very little progress was made.

There was a general expression of opinion that the Task Confronting the Party should now be discussed by all Branches and the E.C. should continue the work it had started with the assistance of its Committees.

The following Resolutions were passed during discussion:-

Second Day.

RESOLUTION -- Devereux & George (Bloomsbury)
